Verdict of No Cause In Negligence Action

A no cause of action verdict was returned Tuesday afternoon by a jury in the negligence action brought by Joseph Daff Vechia and another against Sam Scholnick. The action tried in supreme court arose out of a collision between a truck of plaintiff and a Nash car of defendant which took place in August, 1934, on New Jersey route 2. Daff Vechia sued to recover damages to his truck and Scholnick by a counter claim sought to recover damages to his car and for personal injuries. Plaintiff claimed damages amounting to about $100 and the defendant showed damages amounting to about twice that amount and then asked for further damages for personal injuries and loss of wages. Defendant asked for $1,000.

The jury returned a verdict of no cause of action for plaintiff and dismissed the counter claim. Rusk and Rusk appeared for the plaintiff and Lawrence Levine represented defendant.

At the afternoon session a reply in action brought by Colonial City Chevrolet, Inc., of Kingston, against Percy Mott of Esopus was taken up for trial. The action arises over the ownership of a Plymouth coupe formerly owned by Alexander Moldenhauer of the town of Esopus. Plaintiffs claim that on October 9, 1934, Mr. Moldenhauer came to the Chevrolet salesrooms here and signed an order for a Chevrolet car, signed notes as part payment and traded in his Plymouth car. At that time he told the salesman that he would like to drive the Plymouth home and have the new car delivered by a salesman next day. This was done. Next day the Chevrolet was delivered to him. The plaintiff alleges Mr. Moldenhauer could not deliver the Plymouth car as it had been taken over by Mr. Mott, who is also a car dealer. The Chevrolet people seek to recover the car or its value. They claim that Mr. Mott represented to Mr. Moldenhauer that the deal between Chevrolet and him had been called off and that for that reason Mr. Moldenhauer took a new Plymouth car from Mr. Mott and turned over to Mr. Mott the old car which is in dispute. Chevrolet denies that the deal between them and Moldenhauer was ever called off.

Mr. Mott on the other hand claims that the Plymouth car in dispute was not the property of Mr. Moldenhauer at the time he went to the Chevrolet salesrooms but that it was already the property of Mr. Mott and that an agreement had been made to purchase a Plymouth. The Plymouth car was delivered but later returned but the car traded in was retained by Mr. Mott. The question which the jury is called upon to answer is to whom the Plymouth car actually belonged and when and by whom the original transaction took place. Francis T. Murray appears for plaintiff and Roger H. Loughran and Joseph M. Campbell appear as trial counsel for N. H. Fessenden, attorney of record.

League Pool Return Is Up Nine Cents

Members of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association delivering at Poughkeepsie will receive $2.235 per hundred pounds for milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat for February deliveries. The pool return just announced by the association is 9 cents above the same month in 1935, 33 cents above 1934, and 81 cents above February, 1933.

The net pool return for February is $1.76 per hundred pounds of milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat at the 201-210 mile zone. Added differentials are paid all league members for milk testing over this standard.

Dairy farmers are in a much better position than they were a year ago. In January 1935, 988 pounds of milk were required to purchase a ton of hay while in January 1936, but 432 pounds of milk were required to purchase a similar amount. Feed prices are lower and the dairymen needs but 77 pounds of milk to purchase 100 pounds of feed while just a year ago 117 pounds of milk were required. Businessmen are especially interested in these facts for when the producer is able to retain some of the proceeds from his milk after paying the feed bill, he is in the position to make purchases of commodities in the city and village stores.

Members of the Dairymen's League will receive the following prices per hundred pounds for milk delivered to the association in communities in this vicinity:

Red Hook, $2.14; Pine Plains, $2.155; Stanfordville, $2.135; Wassaic, $2.16; Towners, $2.095; Milerton, $2.155; Pine Bush, $2.205; Gardiner, $2.135; Copake, $2.145; Great Barrington, Mass., $2.115; Canaan, Conn., $2.145; Cornwall Bridge, Conn., $2.14.

Urges Consumers Buy Eastern Apples

Albany, March 11—Varieties of apples grown in New York state particularly adapt themselves to different uses, Commissioner Peter G. Ten Eyck of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets, said in urging consumers to insist on types of apples best suited to the intended use.

"Years of pomological research and study lie behind the rosy skin of the modern McIntosh or the green skin of the Rhode Island Greening," Commissioner Ten Eyck said, "and the work still goes on. The eastern group of growers still presses on, always seeking to improve on the seemingly perfect fruit we now have at our disposal."

Drawing upon the experience of teachers and research experts, the commissioner pointed to the McIntosh as perhaps the greatest all-around apple grown in this state. The McIntosh is the kind of apple that looks well in the fruit bowl and which has a remarkably fine taste eaten out of hand. It can be cooked and still not lose any of its beauty or flavor. In fact, some dietitians explain that cooking a McIntosh enhances the flavor and adds to the beauty. It makes a velvet-smooth pink-tinted sauce.

Then there is the lesser known Cortland, an excellent eating apple which is especially good for salads because the flesh does not discolor when it is cut and exposed to the air.

The Northern Spy, a favorite crunchy eating apple makes the best dumplings there are to be had, while the firm, juicy Baldwin is the apple to buy for pie-making. Baldwin is a favorite of those who like apples with pop-corn. Buy Rome Beauty for an apple that bakes well. Finally, for general cooking purposes, the green Rhode Island Greening is especially adapted.

"If consumers will think over these facts," Commissioner Ten Eyck said, "they will know what apples to buy when they go shopping. There is a New York apple for every purpose, and fine apples as it is possible to grow. Don't forget that men rate apple pie among the best of all desserts."

What's Doing in the N.Y. Legislature Today

Both Houses meet at 11 a. m.

The Assembly will consider additional anti-crime bills, including the Republican proposal for creation of a bureau of justice in the department of correction.

Prosperity never was around any corner. It was buried, and had to be resurrected.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel. Just a healing, soothing vegetable for chronic constipation.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth" and breath—a dull, tired feeling—dick headache caused by constipation—you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them to keep right. Try them 15c, 50c, 60c.—Advt.

The WORLD of STAMPS

By QUINTON JAMES

Cocos Island, famed as a treasure trove of pirate gold and objective of many a pick and shovel expedition, belongs to Costa Rica. Stamps to impress that fact upon the world are now being issued.

The island, a tiny spot in the Pacific, is only 13 miles in circumference, has an altitude of 2,788 feet, lies due west of northern Columbia and approximately a hundred miles south and a little west of Costa Rica.

Costa Rica, in preparing this set of stamps, is said to have done so because of a desire to make known that it has sovereignty over the island. This is due largely to the reported activities of unauthorized treasure hunters, and was climaxed by the recent arrest and execution from the island of a group charged with digging for gold without a government permit.

The stamps, printed in London, are of a single design through eight values, each carrying a map of the island, which is shown located 87 degrees west and 5 degrees north. They run: 4-centimos yellow-brown, 5-c green, 8-c violet, 25-c orange, 35-c red brown, 40-c dark brown, 50-c yellow and 2-colours yellow-green.

First King Edward

What may prove to be the first issue of stamps bearing a portrait of Edward, Britain's new king, from anywhere in the empire is under preparation for Bermuda, the colony in the Atlantic that attracts so many American winter visitors.

The stamps which would replace the "ship" designs which have been more or less current since 1902, are to consist of nine values. Six would bear scenes from the island, while the others would picture Edward VII.

Bermuda stamps have illustrated King George only three times, two of them commemorative in 1920 on the occasion of the tercentenary of the colony. Previous to the first "ship" in 1902 Queen Victoria was used.

Incidentally, the first two Bermuda stamps ever issued, the "postmaster" stamps of 1848 or thereabouts, have a high value today. One, a 1-penny black, is rated at $1,750, and the other, a 1-penny red, at $2,500. Both are on bluish paper.

Brazil Special

From another Latin-American country, Brazil, comes an item described as a commemorative "express" stamp. Its face value is 1,200 reis and it has a portrait of Visconde de Cayru.

The stamp is printed in purple ink on cream-colored paper of a heavy weight on cardboard. The design is an open one, the only indication of a border being a hair-line across the top. It is dated 1935-1936.

World Notes

A reproduction of the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor is to appear on a French semi-postal stamp for the aid of political refugees. The postal face will be 75 francs, with an added 50-f for the relief fund.

Because some items in the recent British jubilee stamps, particularly those of the Falkland Islands, Gambia, Gibraltar and Gold Coast, show an extra flag on Windsor castle, their rating as collectors' items has skyrocketed. At a recent auction in London, four of the Falkland Islands brought about $30, while others were sold from $7.50 to $25. To provide space to house the many rare stamps owned by the French postal administration, a postal museum has been arranged. Previously, the rarities have been kept in various departments. Besides the stamps, there are a number of documents and relics bearing on the history of mails, telegraphs and telephones.

The mutilated body of Dorothy Fay Reedy, 24, was found in an isolated wooded section near Charleston, W. Va. Police held a young chemical worker, who they said, admitted fighting with the young woman on the night of the slaying. (Associated Press Photo)

The general public is invited to attend this unusual service, and especially the relatives of deceased knights. The members of Kingston Council will occupy the center aisle of the church, with the Fourth Degree Knights appearing with swords and baldric, wearing tuxedos.

The vespers service was formerly an annual event, and an effort is being made to revive interest in this beautiful church service.

Masonic Fraternity To Gather in City

Monday evening, March 23, will mark one of the largest gatherings of the Masonic fraternity in Kingston in a long time and Masons from the Greene-Lister Masonic District together with their friends and the general public will meet in the Municipal Auditorium to attend the showing of the motion pictures of the activities of the fraternity at the Masonic Home in Utica and the Masonic camp at Round Lake. These pictures were taken by the M-G-M movie studios, and are said to be very interesting and entertaining. This is the first that these pictures have been shown to an upstate audience, and for that reason it is expected that the Auditorium will be filled with an interested audience. The meeting has been arranged by P. H. Carey, district deputy grand master of the Greene-Lister Masonic District.

Mussolini and Selassie are said to be ready for peace proposals now. They both want to keep their jobs.

LIVE BUSINESS MEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN

For centuries the world has gone to the Near East for its flavors and aromas and spices.

...and today Chesterfield imports thousands of bales of tobacco from Turkey and Greece to add flavor and fragrance to Chesterfield Cigarettes.

Turkish tobacco is expensive. The import duty alone is 35 cents a pound. But no other place except Turkey and Greece can raise tobacco of this particular aroma and flavor.

This Turkish tobacco, blended with our own American tobaccos in the correct proportions to bring out the finer qualities of each tobacco, helps to make Chesterfields outstanding for mildness and for better taste.

NUDIST LANDING IN FUR COAT GETS THE PUBLIC NANNY GOAT

Newark, N. J., March 11 (AP).—The much-heralded emergence of Florence Cubitt, exponent of the body beautiful, from an airplane without a stitch of clothes on proved nothing but a dud.

In the fore rank of the reception committee—some 500 persons—was a small but determined knot of policemen, at least one heavily laden with blankets.

Miss Cubitt, who came from Los Angeles, threw a figurative wet blanket on the proceedings by appearing from the plane modestly clad from head to foot.

A seasonal touch was added by a fur coat.

She explained she had every intention of going through with her original plans, which stated plainly that she would have nothing on when she stepped from the plane. But airline officials advised her to keep her shirt on, so to speak.

Miss Cubitt has been a nudist for five years, she said.

"I'm terribly embarrassed in clothes," she lamented.

When club women visited a house in Victoria county in search of relics for the Texas Centennial exposition, they found $200 hidden in an old organ.

Why You Should Never Cut a Corn

If you are troubled with corns or calluses, do not run the risk of blood poisoning by tearing them. Statistics show that many infections have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of picking corns.

Simply go to your druggist and get some Resinol, rub a little on any painful corn or callus. The pain promptly disappears and in a short time the corn or callus will loosen and fall off easily—without all the danger the irritating skin in a healthy normal condition.

Think, together with the fact that the corn, while causing much trouble as a sore, itching, swollen or burning sore and making them red, raw and uncomfortable, is probably the cause of the nearly uncounted cases of blood poisoning.

To cut one's foot of every hard corn, even when the pain is not severe, is to open a wound and make the chances of such a wound being infected to have a corn and people are warned to stop it—Ad.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, March 11 (AP)—The stock market carried on with its advance today as buyers bid up industrial specialties 1 to 5 or more points.

The financial sector seemed to have shaken off the greater part of its war nervousness.

Oil, farm implement, rubber, aircraft and alcohol issues were in the forefront of the forward movement. Most of the rails, utilities, steels and motors slipped a shade either way. The activity, brisk at the start, slowed appreciably later.

Amerasia Oil was again a spectacular performer, getting up more than 10 points. At the approach of the four hour Case, International Harvester and Deere were ahead about 5 each. Lesser gains were shown by Seaboard Oil, American Telephone, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, National Distillers, Allied Chemical, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and Santa Fe.

American Sugar Refining dropped 2 points and Westinghouse was off around 1.

The dollar exhibited strength in terms of leading foreign exchanges. Commodities were irregular. Bonds steadied.

Hint Public Hearing On Flood Control

Further action on flood control might be based.

The survey made Monday was the first step taken following the passage of the bill by Congress which was introduced by Congressman Philip A. Goodwin. A year ago a survey was authorized in the southern portion of New York state where serious floods had taken place. There Army Engineers were authorized to make a study and report recommendations for flood control. At that time the Board of Supervisors adopted a resolution asking that this survey be extended to Ulster county and adjacent counties in this district. This was approved and last Saturday orders were issued for the commencement of the survey and Monday the engineers began their work.

Too late then to have action taken at the last session of Congress, the matter was deferred until the present session when Congressman Goodwin presented his bill asking that the survey be extended to Ulster county and adjacent counties in this district. This was approved and last Saturday orders were issued for the commencement of the survey and Monday the engineers began their work.

Included in Survey.

This survey will include the following streams in the Catskill mountain area: Birch Creek, Bushkill, Woodland Valley, Warner, Bushkill, Beaverkill, Sawkill, Rondout Creek, Neversink Creek in Ulster county and the Schoharie, Catskill creeks in Greene county, the East Branch of the Delaware, Willowemoc and Lackawack creeks in Sullivan county and the Schoharie creek and its branches in Schoharie county.

Of particular interest to local people is the flood conditions bordering the upper Esopus and its tributaries. Here during the past few years have been two very serious floods, one which resulted in loss of life, and each with great damage to private property, highways and bridges. Following each of these floods there has been huge sums expended for highway and bridge improvements and repairs, much docking has been erected to protect the country from future damage and in the Woodland Valley section the damage has been particularly severe.

The survey which will be made by the Army Engineers will present a picture of what can be done. This report will be submitted with recommendations to Congress and the next step toward control of the flood conditions will rest with Congress to make appropriations to carry out any recommendations which the engineers may submit.

So far as is known the survey made Monday completes the actual field work of the engineers. Maps of the territory showing the streams and elevations are in the possession of the engineers, their visit to the field Monday was to view the physical conditions and to interview people residing in the territory and ascertain whether a public hearing should be held. The fact that they informed Mr. Byron and Mr. Burger as well as Mr. McGrath that there would be a public hearing indicates their visit to the valley indicated to them the need for some method of control.

Specialist—This eccentricity you speak of in your daughter, isn't it, after all, a matter of heredity?
Patient (severely)—No, sir! I'll have you know, sir, there never was any heredity in our family!

The stage juggler who kept five eggs up in the air for ten minutes, has nothing on the girl who keeps four or five boys up in the air for years.

Doctor—I would advise you, madam, to take frequent baths, get plenty of fresh air, and dress in cool clothes.

Husband (an hour later)—What did the doctor say?

Wife—He said I ought to go to Miami and then to the mountains; also, that I must get some new light clothes at once.

The house detective doesn't look half as unforgiving when he is at home telling his wife about the funny things he sees at the hotel.

Plodding Pete—Dat wasn't a bad epigram of de Judges.
Jogging Jake—What did he say?
Plodding Pete—Thirty days.
Jogging Jake—That ain't no epigram, is it?

Plodding Pete—Sure it is. I asked a fellow what an epigram is; and he says it is a short sentence that sounds light, but gives you considerable to think about.

Mother says Father wouldn't never come home if it wasn't a duty and the other places all closed up.

Karl—How did you find the dog you bought for your week-end cabin?
Jeff—A splendid watch dog. He lies on the doorstep of the place and won't let us go in.

Many people hang a lot of importance on what they think of their ancestors rather than what their ancestors would think of them.

Patient—Doctor, is there any danger of the operation proving fatal?
Doctor—Really, my good man, considering that we are experimenting on you free of charge, your idle curiosity is hardly good form.

Father says Mother isn't half so serious over the cigarettes on the library table since she joined the afternoon bridge club.

Hygiene Teacher—What can you tell me about corpuces?
Johnny—My father was a corpuce in France.

It is stated that a man may love one woman and still admire the beauty of others, but he best keep this fact much to himself when in the presence of "the one woman."

Broadway: "The Ghost Goes West." This entertaining British-made film should make the Hollywood moguls a bit wary of outside competition for this talkie is one of the best hit pictures of the year, with a star-studded cast headed by Robert Donat and Jean Harlow. Donat's ranking picture director, managing the show, it leaves little to be desired. The play centers about a young Scotch highlander who is forced to sell his ancestral castle due to the whims of the times. He sells the place to an American millionaire. But the handsome spot of a former ancestor haunts the castle in a nice way and when the millionaire decides to ship the whole castle to America, the ghost goes along. The handsome is this time and so much like the young man that the millionaire is so charmed that he gives him the castle. The entire show is so cleverly conceived and well presented that it is a study of laughter, thrills, romance and mystery. It will appeal to everybody and followers of Robert Donat will find him at his best in his first dual role. Jean Harlow, Eugene Pallette, Elva Langley and Jack Lambert are featured. HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — The scrape of steel on steel is heard from one end of Hollywood to the other. Rapier and dagger flash and clash. Romantic heroes cry "En Garde!"—and thrust. And villains die by the sword.

It is another era of prosperity for Fred Cavens, fencing master, actor, director. Costume romances mean more work at his favorite sport for this Belgian-born son of French parents, a fencer since the age of 12, and fencing instructor to Hollywood since 1921.

Cavens lists most of the great swashbucklers of the film among his pupils. He taught Douglas Fairbanks, John Barrymore, Ian Keith, Rod LaRocque, the late John Gilbert and Milton Sills, and Errol Flynn of "Captain Blood," to cite a few.

Teaching A Barrymore

Now he is concluding work with Leslie Howard, Basil Rathbone, Reginald Denny, Ralph Forbes, and again John Barrymore, for "Romeo and Juliet."

Feminine movie stars also have been taught to thrust and parry by Cavens. Jean Harlow, Norma and Gene Talmadge, and Bebe Daniels were pupils. Although women learn quickly, Cavens insists fencing is "too strenuous" for a girl's sport.

Many fans believe that the thrilling duels they see on the screen are "faked" by doubles. Cavens says he would rather instruct an actor in fencing than to use skilled fencers in these scenes. And that is what he does. If he is granted time to train the actors, lacking time, he is willing to do the scene himself—but he is an actor, and a director, and he knows how movie fencing should be done.

Skilled Fencers Banned

"If skilled fencers fight for the camera," he says, "they have certain reflexes, result of long training, that must be overcome. Their work is too fast, also, to register. Actors are not burdened by these reflexes, and they remember to act, which is important."

Cavens had eight weeks to prepare Howard, Barrymore, et al., for the many duels of "Romeo and Juliet." He found all of them good pupils—and all of them are doing their own dueling.

A movie duel, under Cavens' direction, is "broader" than a real one, but technically correct as to all the fine points. The "broader" permits the opponents to register dramatic reactions.

Breakfast Hall

Sunday morning breakfast is a charming meal and deserves special consideration. It might be a special treat to the family to have the meal served in an unusual way. A large upstairs hall could be made into a most interesting breakfast room for this purpose. A sunny window seat might have a small table placed in front of it, convenient to electric outlets for toasters or percolators. Bright walls and cherry furniture can change a dark hall into a gathering place for the family. Funds to be used for the redecoration may be obtained from any financial institution holding a contract of insurance with the Federal Housing Administration.

Chimney Soot, Well Water; Other Topics

Analysis Being Made of Water From Well on Murphy Street—Cedar street Residents Complain She Has To Do Her Washing Second Time Owing to Chimney Soot—Other Matters Before Health Board.

The time of the Board of Health was largely taken up Tuesday evening at the regular monthly meeting at the city hall with a discussion of a complaint made by Mrs. Charles of 116 Cedar street of soot from the chimney of the Herbert factory blowing onto her clothes as they hung on the clothes line, making them so dirty that she had to wash them over again, and a report that samples of the water from a well on Murphy street were being analyzed at the city laboratory.

The complaint regarding the wet wash becoming dirty from soot from the factory chimney was brought to the attention of the board by Sanitary Inspector John Melville. He informed the board that he was of the opinion that the conditions complained of could be remedied to a large extent if a screen was placed in the chimney of the factory. The matter was left in his hands to take up with the owner of the factory building and see if a screen could be placed. In reply to questions in regard to bakeries in the city the sanitary inspector reported that as a whole the bakeries were kept in a clean and sanitary condition. He said that while in other cities such as Newburgh and New York he had taken occasion to visit bakeries and other business places and had found that conditions in Kingston's business places were much superior to that of other cities.

Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, said that a Mr. Van Gaabeck on Murphy street had asked that city water be furnished the residents of that street, who are without city water at the present time. This street is under the Washington avenue viaduct and has four houses on it. The health officer said that the Van Gaabeck family used water from a well on the premises. Samples of this well were obtained and are now being analyzed at the city laboratory. The board adopted a resolution that if the report showed the water was below the sanitary regulations of the city that the water board be asked to extend the water main through Murphy street.

That there had been only two cases of scarlet fever reported in Kingston since the first of the year was the encouraging report made by Dr. Sanford. He also reported that the measles cases were on the decrease in the city.

The reports of the officers of the board were received and filed and the board audited bills before adjourning. Mayor C. J. Heiselman presided with Dr. Joseph Jacobson, Dr. A. L. Hill and Attorney Louis Bruha, members of the board, in attendance.

The reports of the officers in brief follow.

ANALYZE YOUR TYPE

DON'T LET BASHFULNESS SPOIL YOUR LIFE

There's one at every party. In every group—the shy, quiet introvert who never takes part in a general conversation or a game.

She's always on the mind of the hostess, a wet blanket to the spirits of the other guests, and most uncomfortable herself. Do you know how she feels?

If you're the retiring type yourself, don't avoid social affairs. They give you a chance to round out the undeveloped side of your nature.

Don't look upon your thoughtful, moody habit as a drawback, a hopeless handicap. It's the thinker, the dreamer, who pushes the world forward. Just try to develop skill in bringing to the fore what is in you. And act interested in others.

Make a game of it, at first. Study other people and try to guess what sort they are, what interests them. Go up bravely and boldly to talk to them on what you think will interest them. How relieved they'll be.

and pleased, to have you make the first advance. Everybody is at times a shy, self-conscious introvert.

If you haven't a wide variety of interests yourself, broaden your outlook by acquiring them. Read, observe, talk to others, and have something to talk about on books, politics, gardening, sports, new movies.

A knowledge of various types of people and how to get along with them will make an amazing difference in your daily happiness. Don't let self-consciousness set you down and out of the social picture. No one needs to mope moodily. Our 4-page illustrated Home Institute booklet, SUCCESS IN HANDLING TYPES—YOUR OWN AND OTHERS, gives a trained psychologist's advice on your troubles. The introvert, ambivert, extrovert, the choleric, melancholic, sanguine and phlegmatic types, all explained simply and clearly in this booklet.

FOR TURF AND FIELD

Contribution to Fashion from the Sport of Knigs

Perhaps you didn't know, probably you didn't care, but it is, nevertheless, a fact that many of our present smart and accented fashions had their genesis in the saddle and amongst the spectators at fashionable turf and field events. To name a few: The derby, the high hat, the four-in-hand, the ascot tie, the covert cloth coat, the polo coat, and vented jackets. Lest there be any misunderstanding, we'd like to clarify a point here. With no disrespect to the thousands who like to see 'em run, the race track habitue, whose blatant, horsey attire permits no one to overlook his close association with stable and track, is not our idea of a horseman. His interest in horses is professional, although it differs from that of the fellows with the brooms and white suits. But going back to the equine-minded gentry, we find in their clothes an important source of inspiration, particularly in clothes for informal and countryside wear. The spectator shown above, attending what is evidently a point-to-point meet, is wearing a loose-fitting, raglan sleeved, fairly bold plaid topcoat. His suit is of heringbone Shetland, and his one-piece cap is a hound's tooth check. This is an outfit ideal for this specific occasion, as well as any number of other sporting events held under similar condition, during the spring.

1. A plaid or checked, sanforized cotton flannel shirt is appropriate. The tie suggested is of silk repp in club or stable colorings.

Christian Endeavor
NEWS—

On To Poughkeepsie

The race is on—and it is going to be some race—to the State Christian Endeavor convention to be held at Poughkeepsie July 2-5. Endeavorers can certainly be enthusiastic about the Poughkeepsie meeting, with some of the world's leading speakers to ensure one of the best programs that has ever been assembled for such a convention. Registration blanks, posters and further information will be mailed to the various societies as soon as this material is received from the state department.

Money Raising Ideas

There is always need for raising money to meet the expenses of the society, to secure funds for contribution to the Christian Endeavor Union, and to send members to conventions and other gatherings. The following have been tried and proven successful.

Penny Suppers—All food for the supper is donated. Five cents is charged for the plate, knife, fork, spoon; five cents for a cup of coffee or beverage, the rest of the food is sold at the rate of one cent a tablespoonful.

Overall Patches—A pair of overalls is passed among the members of the society and church upon which is to be sewed a patch covering a piece of money. At a certain time the overalls are called in and an overall party is held, everyone coming dressed in overalls. At this party the patches are removed and the money placed in the treasury.

Christian Endeavor Quilt—Patches of red and white are cut into squares so that when they are sewed together they will make a quilt. The squares are sold to members of the society for ten cents, the name of the purchaser being printed on each block with laundry ink. When the quilt is put together and the squares are all filled with names, the quilt is auctioned off to the highest bidder. This not only makes a very useful article, but also a fine remembrance of the society.

Clintondale Service

The monthly consecration meeting of the Friends Christian Endeavor of Clintondale was held Sunday evening at 7:30, those present enjoying a fine program. Donald Thorn rendered a beautiful violin solo and also accompanied Mrs. Clarence Ronk who sang, "Living for Jesus." A men's chorus rendered, "The Church in the Wildwood," to complete the musical program. Then the topic, "Man's Use of the Sabbath," was thoroughly discussed by the entire assemblage. The Clintondale Endeavorers are striving to make their meetings a source of spiritual uplift, building fine Christian characters and inspiring a zeal for service for Christ and the church.

Albany Avenue Social

The Albany Avenue Endeavorers will hold their business meeting and social on March 20. Many important matters are to be settled at this session and each member is requested to make a special effort to be present. After the business meeting, a social hour will be enjoyed and plans are being made to invite all county Endeavor Societies to join in this social activity. The first practice of the Endeavor choir for their special Easter Anthem, "The Resurrection and The Life," was held last week and all indications point toward a successful rendition of this beautiful Easter anthem.

Two Comforter Meetings

The regular monthly meeting of the Comforter Endeavor will be held on Friday evening, March 13, in the church beginning at 7:45. The play committee hopes to be able to give a complete report of the play by this meeting. Gordon A. Craig will have charge of the social activities for the evening. Sunday, there will be the regular prayer service and discussion meeting. The topic is, "Putting Christian Purpose Into Life," leader, Miss Marjorie Smith. Anyone interested in the work of the Christian Endeavor is always welcome at the Comforter Sunday evening services. Meetings begin promptly at 7:15 and last about three-quarters of an hour.

Bethany Chapel Activities

At the monthly business meeting of the young people's society of the Bethany Chapel, the society decided to sponsor a minstrel show in the near future and a committee was appointed to make the preliminary arrangements. Another committee was selected to prepare for the fifth annual birthday party of the organization which will be held on the second Thursday evening in April. All former members are invited to this party. The Lenten services, held each Thursday and Saturday evening, are being well received. These services are sponsored by the G. C. G. and the Junior Christian Endeavor. The new editorial staff for the club's paper, "The Bright Spot," was also chosen. The Junior Society will hold their regular work period on Saturday evening at 6:30 when they hope to make further progress on their project—making the life of Christ out of construction paper.

Port Ewen Discussion

Miss Viola Hotelling, president of the Port Ewen Endeavor, reports an exceptionally fine discussion meeting last Sunday on the topic of "Compulsory Military Training." She said that no definite conclusion was reached as neither side would "budge an inch." Next Sunday evening will be observed as a special song service. This Wednesday, March 11, the regular business session will be held and plans for the spring activities will be made.

Woodstock Reports

News from Woodstock indicates that they are holding their regular meetings with fairly good attendance. A delegation from this society attended the leap year party at the Congregational Church in Kingston and reported a fine time.

County Official Meeting

The regular meeting of the Ulster County Union Official Board was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Frances Roosa in New Paltz. The main topic of the entire session was the idea of raising money to meet the pledge made toward the support of the State Organization. Several plans were discussed, and a rally to be held some time between May 9 and May 16, was decided as one way to acquire some funds. Howard Launbach, the New York State president, will be the speaker at this rally. Miss Carolyn Ryder reported progress on the Easter Service plans and expects to announce final arrangements within two weeks. The next meeting of the Official Board will be at C. Lee Powell's in Kingston on Monday evening, May 4. The meeting was then adjourned.

RIFTON LADIES' AID MAKES

PLANS FOR ENTERTAINMENT

Rifton, March 11—The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church was held on Wednesday evening, March 4 at the home of Mrs. Mary Davis.

At this meeting final plans were made for the entertainment which the Aid is expecting to give and the date for same was decided on as Thursday evening, March 26. There will be a short play given by members of the Aid, also several smaller sketches and monologues, after which refreshments will be served. The ladies intend to serve frankfurters and rolls, coffee, cake, popovers, homemade candy and in connection with this entertainment they will also have a variety table of fancy things which will be for sale at reasonable prices.

The members of the Aid hope their friends and neighbors will bear the above date, namely March 26, in their mind and favor them with their valued patronage on that night and all who attend will be assured of an evening of amusing entertainment and good fellowship.

The next regular meeting of the Aid will be held on Wednesday evening, April 1 at the home of Mrs. Grace Frost.

There will be a rehearsal for the play which the Ladies of the Aid are to give next Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Claude Davis and it is earnestly hoped that all those who have a part will attend so that there can be a complete rehearsal.

British Cabinet In Special Session

from the German Rhineland

Meeting on Saturday.

Two days later—on Saturday—the League of Nations Council, in its special session to consider Franco-Belgian appeals from Hitler's action transferred from Geneva, also will convene in London, probably in the picture gallery in St. James Palace, scene of history-making events of recent years.

The hastily and elaborate preparations for two conferences found the national government holding emergency sessions of the House of Commons approval of a $300,000,000 program for navy and air force expansion.

By a vote of 371 to 153, the House of Commons last night accepted a white paper outlining the far-reaching defense scheme. While government majorities beat down a motion of non-confidence, 378 to 85.

Will Quit League

Paris, March 11.—A high source declared today that France will quit the League of Nations unless Great Britain backs her demand that Reichsfuehrer Hitler withdraw his troops from the Rhineland.

This source stated that Pierre-Etienne Flandin, France's foreign minister, will take a warning of such possible action with him when he goes to London tomorrow for a conference of Locarno treaty signatories.

Officials said Flandin was prepared to tell Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, that France was not alone in her stand against further occupation of the Rhineland by German troops.

An authoritative spokesman declared: "We know war is coming in two years anyhow. We might as well start now, while we are prepared."

The only way in which Hitler's troops will leave the Rhineland is for the Locarno signatories to drive them out, but a stitch in time saves nine."

"French Honor at Stake"

The official added: "There comes a time when a nation refuses to be humiliated in front of the world. French honor is at stake and we are ready to draw the sword if necessary to keep it unsullied."

The French attitude was described after Flandin had conversed this morning with Ambassador Potemkin of Soviet Russia, the nation with which France signed the military assistance pact on which Hitler based his demand for the evacuation of the Locarno treaty.

French officials said that it was necessary that Great Britain back France at this moment in order to prevent "the death of the League of Nations."

Gestures Not Enough

One official said: "This time, France will be satisfied with no gestures. Germany must remove at least 70 per cent of her troops from the Rhineland. The world must know that Germany has ceded."

"This is a poker game, but France knows that she has a royal flush and, if the cards are laid on the table, she is certain of winning. Therefore she is willing to go the limit."

This source said he admitted he was unable to see how Hitler, as a dictator, could withdraw 70 per cent of his troops or even a smaller percentage.

Another official said: "Other powers whose policies are based on collective security and who are determined to support the French and Belgian stand before the League of Nations have informed us that, if treaties seem worthless, they will not hesitate to quit the league."

The reference to "other powers" was interpreted in diplomatic quarters as meaning Soviet Russia and the little entente of Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, and Rumania.

No Reich Representative

By A. D. STEFFERUD
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

Berlin, March 11 (AP)—A German foreign office spokesman announced today that the League of Nations Council session in the Locarno crisis would open Saturday without a Reich representative, under present conditions, even though the scene of action was shifted from Geneva to tranquil London.

The Reich insists upon a formal invitation by the League Council to the session, the spokesman said, even if the British government, as host to Saturday's meeting, should invite a German representative or intimate diplomatically that Germany's presence was desired.

Reports current in the capital that Joachim von Ribbentrop, Adolf Hitler's special diplomatic representative, was already en route to London for the meeting were discounted in official quarters.

These reports were attributed to the fact that von Ribbentrop was not in Berlin. Political sources believed he was in Munich, conferring with Der Fuehrer.

That countless conferences were being held on all continents in government quarters was evidenced by the fact that all telephone calls to officials, especially those connected with the Locarno pact and League of Nations questions, elicited the same reply: "The director of the press conference is in an important conference."

Admirer Explained

Hitler, according to the capital at the time, was being examined by Chamberlain officials.

be included among the nations to which non-aggression pacts were to be offered by Germany in the new security system proposed after the Reich broke the Locarno pact and Versailles treaty Saturday by its occupation of the Rhineland.

Willing to Return

Hitler, who "broke the chains" of the Locarno pact four days ago by marching his Reichwehr into the Rhineland, is willing to go back into the league, expecting Germany's colonial equality and freedom from post-war peace treaties will be granted recognition. At the same time he has offered eastern and western Europe a new system of non-aggression pacts.

Some newspapers today made use of the dread word, "sanctions," but the Reich as a whole was keyed up to a patriotic fervor by the opening gun in a campaign for popular approval of the Rhine land thrust.

Declaring Der Fuehrer has "broken on the chains which the world placed about us," Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, volatile little minister of propaganda and public enlightenment, launched the electioneering for new Reichstag elections, called by Hitler for March 29 to give the German people an opportunity to hail his newest coup.

Minimum Demand.

General, March 11 (AP)—The minimum demand for settlement of the Locarno crisis, the Journal Des Nations said today, was that Germany must withdraw some of its troops from the Rhineland and give a pledge to construct no fortifications there.

French Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin told representatives of signatories of the violated Locarno pact, in their Paris conference yesterday, this newspaper said, that Great Britain and Italy, guarantors of the treaty which Germany broke, were obligated to give military assistance to France.

Even without overt German aggression on French soil, this assistance was pledged, the Journal quoted Flandin as saying, and France was ready to put all its military forces at the disposal of the League of Nations, whose decision France awaited.

In the event that the Locarno guarantors defaulted their obligations, the newspaper said, France might ask cancellation of the League sanctions now operating against Italy.

Flandin was reported to have declared economic and financial sanctions could be applied against any country which endangered peace by repudiating international obligations, as did Germany by its occupation last Saturday of the Rhineland.

Supporting France.

Soviet Russia, the Little Entente and the Balkan Entente were viewed generally in international circles as supporting the French attitude.

These sources forecast exceedingly difficult negotiations in the second conference of Locarno signatories, called for tomorrow at London, and the League Council session, called for Saturday in Britain's capital, to deal with the issue.

A general opinion prevailed, however, that the longer the negotiations drag on, the less likelihood there was of any serious military complications arising from the crisis.

League quarters, at first stunned by the swift removal of the Locarno crisis negotiations from Paris and Geneva to London, accepted the transfer more calmly today as a possible development toward peace.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's return to London, instead of coming to Geneva, created a sensation in international circles, where the move was interpreted swiftly to mean that the Locarno crisis concluded to be serious.

The Paris reports coupled with Premier Albert Sarraut's address to the Chamber of Deputies, asserting Germany's violation of the Locarno pact and the demilitarized zone affected gravely the future of European peace, gave rise to a general impression that France had stiffened its attitude.

Fine Exhibition of Moving Pictures at The Armory Monday

An exceptionally interesting exhibition of moving pictures, complete, with sound effects, put on by the Chevrolet Motor Corporation at the request of the Colonial City Chevrolet, was given at the Armory Monday night for the benefit of the officers and men of the Headquarters Battery and Battery A. So entertaining and instructive were the pictures that, despite the fact that the original program ran from 8 to 10:30 the audience clamored for more and Mr. Brewer, in charge of the pictures for the Chevrolet Co., obliged by showing still more.

Inasmuch as the equipment at the Armory is to be motorized, the reel showing cut-away engines in operation and detailing every operation of the motor, was particularly appreciated by members of the 155th The pictures gave a complete idea of just what happens when a motor is in operation.

Another picture, produced by major league ball players in cooperation with the Chevrolet Motor Corporation, showed the development of baseball, starting with the sandlot player and continuing till it showed the finished product in action as a member of one of the major league teams.

Then there was a film showing the wonderful strides that have been made during the years in the development and refinement of the automobile. In addition to these Mr. Brewer gave a showing of news reels, and also showed a safety campaign film, in the making of which Commissioner Hartnett of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles cooperated.

The program was so enthusiastically received that it is planned to have another similar one within two or three months.

Hatted Deer Draws Ire Of Fred Gronemeyer

"What the heck," observed Sergeant-at-Arms Lewis S. Sharp of the Common Council, as he paused in his walk through the main corridor of the city hall Tuesday afternoon and rubbed his eyes in amazement.

Yes, spring is just around the corner for believe it or not the deer in the main corridor of the city hall was wearing a nobby headgear of the latest design from marts of fashion.

As the sergeant glanced again at the deer that animal looked so rogish in its new lid that it actually seemed to wink and if it could talk appeared to be saying "Well sarge what do you think of my new spring bonnet?"

For those who have not seen the deer in the main corridor of the city hall it might be well to explain that it was designed by one of the Woodstock artists last summer as an L.R.B. project for needy artists.

The deer is full size and is constructed of plaster of paris. Originally it was to have been cast in stone and set up in one of the city parks as a monument, but funds for the art project expired before that was done.

Sergeant Sharp walked up to the inanimate object of art and picked up the hat from its head tried to put it on his own. It did not fit. He named aside to see if it were a travelling salesman's hat. He was no man of identification.

"Huh," grunted the sergeant at arms, "some one must be playing practical jokes on me." Discreet inquiries in the various offices in the city hall failed to reveal the owner of the hat. Just then a stranger was seen in the main corridor who was wearing no hat.

"How about a new hat?" asked the sergeant jovially to the stranger.

"That's my middle name," said the stranger, and he clapped the hat on his head.

It was too small.

He handed it back to the sergeant and with real regret in his voice said "Ah lak it well 'nough, but it done don fit."

Just about then or shortly after ward Fred Gronemeyer, assistant secretary of the Board of Public Works, received a call and before he left the office looked for his hat.

That article was missing.

Mr. Gronemeyer was puzzled. He looked behind chairs and desks but to no avail, the hat had mysteriously disappeared. While busy looking under a desk Sergeant Sharp entered the office whirling the hat from the deer around on his finger.

"Hav you," said Mr. Gronemeyer

"where did you get that hat?"

As a rule Mr. Gronemeyer uses much more graceful and correct English but he was somewhat excited and forgot himself.

The assistant secretary explained that he had found the hat in its rightful place.

The only man that is still unscathed is who placed the hat on the deer's head.

Morgenweckers Have Hopes Of Winning Over Phillies

The first half champions of the American Basketball League, Eddie Gottlieb's Philadelphia Hebrews, are the opponents of Frank Morgenweck's Clites Service club at the Municipal Auditorium tonight. Starting time of the game is 8:30.

Although the Morgenweckers trail the rest of the teams in the league for the second half, and howled to the SPHAS Saturday, they hope to go places against the Phillies tonight and come out on top. The Quaker City tossers are confident of victory. Indications are that the battle will be a hot one from start to finish.

Shiky Gotthoff, who starred for the Hebrews the last time they were here, is in great scoring form. Saturday at the club's home court he made 16 of the 40 points the Phillies scored against the Gasoliers who made only 18.

Gotthoff and the rest of the SPHA brigade are set on taking home the laurels. The rest of the Hebrew regulars are Fitch, Rosan, Kaselman, Goldman and Wolfe.

Morgenweck is expected to start Kintzing and Stanton, forwards; Hearn, center, Shimek and Husta, guards. Wyka will be in reserve.

In tonight's preliminary the Kennells will play the Rhinebeck A. C., a team that should extend the Oilers to the limit.

Play-offs in Class League at High School

The Junior and Senior divisions of the Class League at the high school tied for leadership and a play-off was had in the gym Tuesday.

Sophomore F gained supremacy in the lower division, defeating Sophomore G 25-19. Ferguson and Crist made 17 points for the winners. Bailey with seven was high for the losers.

Tonight after school Senior B and Sophomore F will play for the championship; game at 3:15.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

(By The Associated Press)

Clearwater, Fla.—Van Mungo, who didn't waste much time about coming to terms with the Dodgers after reaching camp, doesn't think the injured finger which gave him so much trouble last year will hamper his pitching this season. "I played a lot of basketball this winter and it didn't hurt me," he commented.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Meyll Hoag, who has played in the outfield and at third base for the Yankees, gets his first competitive test as a pitcher today. The strong armed gardener, who hopes to win a place on the mound corps, is slated for duty in the Yanks' first intra-camp game.

Pensacola, Fla.—Bill Terry, Giants manager, plans to carry seven infielders on his club this season. In addition to four regulars—Terry, Burgess Whitehead, Dick Bartell and Travis Jackson—Sam Leslie is scheduled to bank sound as sub for the manager and Smokey Joe Martin to fill in for Jackson. Mark Koenig probably will get the utility job.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Intra-games were planned today and tomorrow by Bill McKetchnie to whip the bees into shape for the exhibition with

UP TO THE MAJORS

BRUSIE OGRADOWSKI

Chicago (AP)—The American Association, proving ground for some of the greatest big league stars in baseball history, sent 21 of its most illustrious performers to the majors this year.

On the basis of past performances, the St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago White Sox and Cubs landed the "big four" of the midwestern class AA circuit.

From their big farm at Columbus, the Cardinals recruited Brusie Ogradowski, skilfully rated as the finest catcher in the minors last year, and Mike Ryba, the Polish superman who was named the most valuable player in the A. A. last season. The Cubs obtained John Gill, home-run champion of the circuit, from Minneapolis, while the White Sox drew a pitching prize in Monte Stratton, who won 17 games for the fifth-place St. Paul club in 1935.

One-Man Ball Club

Ryba is one of the most versatile stars ever known to the game. On the Cardinal roster, he is listed as catcher, pitcher, infielder, outfielder— even manager. Columbus preferred him as a pitcher last season—as his record of 20 victories and eight defeats testifies. He batted .318 and played in 94 games. At Springfield, Mo., in 1934, he not only filled in at every position but managed the club, dictated letters and even sold tickets on occasion.

Ogradowski, another Polish boy from the Pennsylvania mountains, likely to remain with the Cubs this season, but they were unlikely to get more than occasional action. In other words, the Cubs showed slight promise of duplicating their sensational 1935 rookie luck, which played a large part in winning the pennant.

The New York Yankees Saturday Waterfront Park was too wet yesterday for more than informal practice.

Avalon, Calif.—Only two of the rookies, third baseman Gene Lillard and outfielder Johnny Gill, appeared steps into the backstop spot vacated by the illness and temporary retirement of Bill DeLancey, but the Cardinals are confident he will be good enough to fill the breach.

Gill, a terrific long-range hitter, is Manager Charlie Grimm's main hope for a better Cub outfield. He will have to beat Chuck Klein or Tut Stainback out of the job but will have an ideal target for his specialty when he aims his smashes at the short right-field fence at Wrigley Field. Gill hit .361 with the Millers.

Stratton, a gangling right-hander weighing 180 pounds and standing six feet five inches, promises to round out the most effective young pitching staff in the circuit for the White Sox. In 226 innings with the fifth place Saints, Stratton struck out 120 and walked but 63 batters.

The Other Talent

Other American Association candidates for big league fame are: Cincinnati: Right-handed Pitcher Lee Stine, who won 18 and lost 11 for St. Paul.

St. Louis Cardinals: Right-handed Pitcher James Winford, winner of 14 and loser of 11 for Columbus; Infielder Fred Ankenman, five-foot-four, 133-pound infielder who batted .312 and fielded .944 for Columbus. Brooklyn: Infielder Vincent Sherlock, a .398 hitter for Indianapolis; Outfielder John Cooney, who went up to the big time first as a pitcher but who batted .371 for Indianapolis last season.

Philadelphia Nationals: Infielder Leo Norris, a .299 hitter and home-run clutter from Minneapolis. Pittsburgh: Right-handed Pitcher John Lising (won 15, lost 15) from Louisville; Infielder Wilbur Gribbaker, a .293 hitter with Kansas City.

Chicago White Sox: Outfielders Mike Kreevich and George Stumpf, who hit .345 and .322, respectively, for Kansas City.

St. Louis Browns: Southpaw Pitcher Howard Mils (won 7, lost 8) and Catcher Angelo Giuffani, both from St. Paul.

Cleveland: Catcher Bob Garbark from Toledo; Pitcher Dennis Galehouse and Walter Tauscher, right-handers, from Minneapolis; Outfielder Walter Carson from Kansas City.

Detroit: Outfielder Chester Morgan, a .321 hitter from Toledo.

The Olympics—Davis Cup Finals—Record Number of Holdouts

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 11 (AP)—It will take another European war to stop the remainder of the 1936 Olympic program, slated for the first two weeks of August in Berlin.

"That's what prevented the games the last time they were awarded to the German capital. The World War, however, broke out in 1914 and by the time 1916 rolled around no one was giving the Olympic situation much thought.

It wasn't until the third Olympiad after the conflict ended that Germany was welcomed back into the international athletic fold. The Teutons returned to action at Amsterdam in 1928, made an excellent all-around showing and promptly pushed their bid for the 1936 games.

America's tennis forces may be saved the expense of another wasted trip to Europe this summer in quest of the Davis Cup.

Australia, challenging in the North American zone, looks to have the man-power capable of beating this country's best in the finals, slated for the grass courts of the Germantown (Pa.) Cricket Club.

It was at Germantown in 1927 that the French ace, Cochet and LaCoste, rallied to whip America's two "Bills," Johnston and Tilden, and take the famous trophy to Europe.

Australia's trio of Jack Crawford, Vivian McGrath and Adrian Quist, looks more formidable than the prospective American lineup, with Wilmer Allison and Don Budge in the singles, Allison and John Van Ryn or Budge and Gene Mako in the doubles and Bryan (Bitsy) Grant in reserve.

With the middle of March at hand, only five of the 16 major league baseball clubs report all hands signed for the coming season. The holdout situation is unprecedented, no matter how much longer it lasts.

Cincinnati tops the list with five unsigned players, including Ernie Lombardi, Babe Herman and Iral Goodman, all front line men. Others stubbornly demanding more pay include Hank Greenberg of the Giants, Hank Leiber of the Giants, Ben Chapman of the Yankees, the Dean brothers of the Cardinals, Pinky Higgins of the Athletics, Bill Werber of the Red Sox, Zeke Bonura of the White Sox and Joe Sirrip of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Washington and Cleveland, among American League Clubs, and Chicago, Boston and Pittsburgh in the national have finished spring operations on the contract-signing derby.

Winter Sports End Successful Season In Town of Woodstock

Woodstock, March 11.—At Monday's meeting of the Woodstock Winter Sports Association the to-boggan season was officially closed, and the ski meet postponed until next year, though Arnold Wiltz reported excellent skiing conditions on the trails.

Even the Bearsville ski hill has 10 inches of snow, still providing good skiing. Mr. Wiltz said that as soon as the snow is off the hill more work will be done to make it even better for next year. Mr. Wiltz recommended that as soon as possible a committee will be formed of volunteer and appointed members to make plans for a winter carnival for next year. With a program arranged now a carnival, to take place sometime late in January, would work out automatically with no last minute rush and confusion. A letter was read by Mr. Wiltz from a winter visitor who expressed his appreciation of Woodstock's "hospitable atmosphere," and the well arranged winter sports program. This was only one of several similar letters received.

In the report on the toboggan meet the five highest speeds were recorded in the minutes. They were Woodstock Winter Sports Association, first place, with an average speed of 26 seconds; West Hurley second with 27 seconds; Kingston High School, third, with a little more than 27 seconds; Shokan, fourth place, with 29 seconds; and Mount Tremper and Rosendale, each 2, tied for fifth, with 30 seconds. Eighteen teams represented Woodstock, Kingston, West Hurley, Shokan, Mount Tremper, Rosendale, Phoenixia, Saugerties.

A suggestion was made by George Neher, to be considered by the officers, of making the toboggan slide of wood. Though the initial expense would be more, he stated, the maintenance thereafter would be much less. Also on such a slide toboggan running may be continued much later in the season.

Several motions were passed concerning summer activity of the organization. One of these arranged for the recording of names of summer visitors who are interested in winter sports. This will be the basis of a mailing list for next season.

It was voted at the meeting to send letters of thanks to Joseph Huffy and Albert Cashdollar for their work on the ski and toboggan hills and parking areas.

Other matters settled at the meeting were the acceptance of a log lean-to presented by Louis Doherty, the decision to purchase the building at the Ohayo Slide, loaned by Fen Fracklin; and the forming of a committee for the storage of equipment.

It was reported that of the more than 300 members in the organization nearly one half are from out of town.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

There was a good crowd out at White Eagle hall Tuesday night to witness the three games of basketball which had been announced, with the Home Leaders scheduled to fight it out with Battery A in the main event.

The fans were disappointed insofar as the battle between Grunenwald's warriors and the soldiers was concerned as the duel between the two teams was again postponed. They saw two good preliminary games, however, both won by close scores. The Cornell-Rescue team disposed of the White Ducks, 31 to 25, and the Kingston A. A. and the Ponckhockie Royalettes, two girls' teams, battled to a 15-14 finish, with the A. A. girls getting the 15.

Charles Grunenwald, sponsor for the Home Leaders, said this morning that there had been a hitch in arranging for the game with Battery A, in that it had not been taken into consideration that three of the Home Leaders players were to play at Cornell Tuesday night as members of the Kendall team. Rhymor, Dykes and Cullum were the missing players. It seems to be agreed that a third attempt will be made to bring the Home Leaders and Battery A together, the game to be played on the Army court.

In the C. & R.-White Ducks game Tuesday night J. Wenzel of the fireboys was the star of the game, scoring nine fields and a foul for a total of 19 points. Cannon and Prendergast led for the Ducks, each being credited with eight points.

All but two of the A. A. girls' points were made by L. Tremper, who tossed in six field baskets and made one from the foul line for a total of 13. B. DeWitt scored the other two points with a field goal. For the Royalettes Ruth Parslow scored nine points, Anna Albany dropped in two fields and Gertrude Kagle, accounted for the other point with a foul. The A. A. led at the half 13-6, but were hard pressed to keep ahead the latter part of the game.

Jersey Reds Brought Forward By Spahn And Micholette

Within two weeks of the close of the second half race of the American Basketball League Championship, both the Jersey Reds and Brooklyn Visitation are tied for first place. Visitation are tied for first place. Passaic, New York Jewels and Philadelphia Hebrews have still mathematical possibilities.

The Reds have two games remaining with Philadelphia Hebrews, while Brooklyn Visitation meet their bitterest rivals the New York Jewels in another pair of exhibitions. The present indications are that the outcome of this division will not be known until the final game is played on March 22.

Smart Manager

The remarkable form shown by the Jersey Reds in coming from practically nowhere to the point of vantage in this half is a tribute to the managerial arm of "Moose" Miller, manager. The introduction of Moose Spahn and Mike Micholette unseated the Reds sufficiently as to make it one of the best balanced combinations in the professional game, and one that will not easily be discouraged.

Brooklyn Visitation, on the other hand, after some mediocre playing in the first half of the season, have clicked some considerably during the last half of the campaign, and due to the brilliant scoring of McDevitt, Johnson and Bergman, the club from the City of Churches looks once more like the World Champions of a year ago.

Runs Up There

Although Elapton trails the chcut. Captain Carlisle Husta is fourth among the 10 leading scorers with 133 points for 17 games. Husta made 100 of his points on field goals and 33 on fouls, according to the official statistics of President John J. O'Brien. The list follows:

Coal Gas Overcomes Mother and Daughter

Mrs. Katie A. LeFever and Daughter, Miss Beulah M. LeFever, Overcome by Fumes at Home on Cedar Street—Rushed to Hospital—To Return Home Shortly.

Shortly after 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon Miss Beulah M. LeFever, 70, of 65 Cedar street, was seen to open the front door of the house, stagger out on the front porch and fall. Neighbor ran over to the house and found it filled with the fumes of coal gas. The police department was notified by telephone and Officers Reine and McGraw in one of the radio cars rushed to the house.

As the officers drove up in front of the house they were informed that two women had been overcome by coal gas, and Officer Reine asked a man who was passing to notify the police department to call the fire department for the inhalator, notify a physician and call for an ambulance.

The two officers then went into the house and assisted neighbors in carrying Mrs. Katie A. LeFever, 74, from the house and placing her on the porch. The two women were placed on the porch and covered over with blankets to keep them warm until the doctor and firemen arrived with the inhalator.

The officers then threw open all the doors and windows of the house to allow the coal gas to escape. The mother and daughter, according to the police, have been residing in but two rooms of the house during the winter. In the dining room is one of the large old fashioned stoves known as self feeders. The officers discovered that the stove pipe running from the stove to the chimney had several holes in it and that the coal gas was escaping through these holes.

Deputy Fire Chief Fred M. Leverich and Firemen Sanford, Williams and LaTour had responded to the call for aid and used the inhalator on both women. Dr. John B. Krom also attended and after both women had been sufficiently revived ordered them removed to the Kingston Hospital in the W. N. Conner ambulance which had been called.

This morning at the hospital it was stated that both women had sufficiently recovered from their experience to be able to return home shortly.

From what the officers were able to learn the mother and daughter had been sitting in the dining room near the stove, and were overcome by the coal gas before they realized the danger. The daughter before she became unconscious was able to stagger out on the porch, but before she could give an alarm had fallen to the porch floor where she was seen lying by a neighbor.

Mrs. LeFever and her daughter are the only occupants of the house where they have resided for many years.
